RESERVE OF OFFICERS.

The attention of Reserve Officers is particularly directed to the following Regulation:—

An Army Reserve Officer shall report himself at the commencement of each year, in writing, to the Secretary of the War Office. Should he fail to do so he shall (unless he be an Officer retired from the Regular Forces with liability for further service in case of emergency) be removed from the Reserve of Officers at the end of the year in which he fails to report himself.

Reserve Officers reporting themselves in compliance with this Regulation, will, at the same time, furnish their addresses for the current year; and any subsequent change of address should be at once notified to the War Office.

Reserve Officers accepting service under any Government Department, County, Borough, or Municipal Authority, should notify the fact to the Secretary of the War Office as soon as possible.

[Officers whose names are printed in Italics are not available for Service with Regular Forces for Home Defence.

[Officers marked thus † are voluntarily in the Reserves of Officers.]

PART III.—Fire Direction Practices.

A few bursts of ranging fire will be delivered at various ranges under direction of officers, for practice in applying fire. The distances should be not less than 600 yards, and the results of the fire should be signalled from the target position. Collapsible targets should be used, and not more than 200 rounds in all should be expended.

PART IV.—Field Practices.

All ammunition remaining in hand should be expended in tactical exercises or problems, in accordance with the principles laid down for field practices fired with the rifle. The firing should not take place at distances less than 600 yards, if range accommodation is available.

Special Instructions for Table C.

Two non-commissioned officers and 12 men per battalion will be trained in firing the gun, 500 rounds being allotted for the practice of each firer.

Non-commissioned officers and men who show a high standard of proficiency, will not be required to fire through the whole of the Elementary and Instructional Practices, the ammunition saved being fired subsequently in Field Practices.

The standard, in grouping and application practices, will be 75 per cent. of hits on a 3½-inch band at 30 yards, and 50 per cent. of hits on a screen one yard high at 400 yards.

Details of the practices may be varied by order of commanding officers according to local range facilities. For the Elementary Practices, the necessary targets should be placed on a screen measuring 6 feet long and 6 feet high.

In traversing practice, fire should be directed at extended lines of figures 3½ inches high; traversing fire will consist of a series of small groups, the gun being slightly traversed between each group. Bands of coloured paper 3½ inches deep should be placed above these lines of figures, and the sights should be elevated so that the bullets will strike these bands. For practice 3, the band should be sloped at the same or slightly greater angle than the figures.

The ordinates of the trajectories for various ranges at 30 yards from the muzzle, measured from the feet of the lowest line of figures, should be marked on the edge of the target, so that it may be used also as a long range sighting target.

All correction in Part II. should be made by observation; there will be no signalling from the target position during the practices.

It is desirable that all practices in Part II. should be fired from behind cover.

Targets should be placed on the face of the stop butt, or in the open if safety conditions permit.

Collapsible targets may be "iron falling," or figure targets representing a firing line, machine gun, or other service objective.

Table C.—Special Reserve.

Instructions are in preparation and will be promulgated in due course.

Table C.—Territorial Force.

Non-commissioned officers and men of machine-gun sections of the Territorial Force will fire practices 1, 2, 3, 4 or 6, 7 or 8, 9 and 10 (30 rounds only at two distances).

The ammunition allowance will be 200 rounds per non-commissioned officer and man.

The Home was constructed and is equipped for 200 girls, and the desire of the Committee is to maintain the full complement.

The need of such an institution is apparent from the fact that there are on an average three candidates brought forward at each election to every one admitted.

The Committee earnestly appeal to a generous public to aid them in the support of the Charity. They also ask for the co-operation in the good work of every Regiment and Corps.

A contribution of but 6d. a year from each Non-Commissioned Officer and Man throughout the Service would provide for the support of a child from every Regiment.

The Home is open to visitors daily between 10 and 5, except on Saturdays and Sundays.

The Committee invite the inspection of all friends of the Soldier.

MILITARY WIDOWS' FUND, BRITISH SERVICE.

(Late Queen's Military Widows' Fund.)

The Military Widows' Fund, British Service, was established in 1820 to alleviate the distress of families of officers of the British Service and to enable them to return to England without unnecessary delay. Whenever an officer of the British Service, who is a subscriber to this Fund, dies, his family receives at once, the following assistance, namely:—Six months maintenance allowance ranging from Rs. 2,400/ to Rs. 3,600/, according to rate subscribed, plus Rs. 1,500/ for passage for the widow, plus Rs. 500/ or Rs. 300/ for passage for each child, according to whether it is over or under 12 years of age. These benefits are secured by a small subscription of Rs. 4, 3, or 2 per mensem, which is regulated by the amount of pay an officer draws. An officer, immediately on becoming a subscriber, secures at once for his wife and children, quite irrespective of length of service in India, the full benefits of the Fund in case of his death.

In 1902 the sum of Rs. 31,200/ was paid in awards to families of deceased subscribers; and the total amount paid since the establishment of the Fund in 1820 exceeds Rs. 22,00,000/.

Copies of the Regulations of the Fund can be obtained from the Honorary Secretary at Simla.
